

Isabella Luglio, Brazil

Isabella has been part of Fashion Revolution Brazil since 2016 and among other projects, was the manager of the Fashion Transparency Index Brazil 2020. She has a BA in Fashion Design and a Sustainable Design Certificate from the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York. Before joining the Fashion Revolution team Isabella worked in various roles across the fashion scene in São Paulo.

Michaela Engst, Ethiopia

After graduating in fashion design from the BEST-Sabet Design School Berlin in 2012, Michaela founded her label ENGST - SlowEcoFashion. Within her work she focuses on sustainability, respect to the environment, animals and people. Beside Berlin, she has lived and worked in the UK, India, Cameroon and Ethiopia. She held workshops about "The insight of the work" and responsibilities as a fashion designer" - Berlin, in Cameroon workshops about "Pattern Cutting & Fabrication - Precision & Quality" within the annual Forum Des Metiers De La Mode Et Du Design" in Yaoundé, Cameroon. Until May 2018 she worked for two years as fashion designer and productions head for African Mosaicque and as trainer for the African Mosaicque Fashion Incubator. Since then she is focusing on her brand again as well as on creative workshops and collaborations between different creative fields in Addis Ababa and Berlin. Convinced of the inspiring power of sharing and collaborating within creative fields she has conceptualised the workshop brand "COLLECTIVE CREATIVE" with the goal to create a network for creative minds.

Aliya Curmally, India

Aliya Curmally is a force to be reckoned with. A prolific writer and committed sustainability advocate, Aliya knows her sustainability brands up and down the country personally and professionally. Aliya's interests are feminism, sustainability in every degree and challenging the system to its fullest. Aliya has also been a credited writer on a number of respected films in India. She works with Fashion Revolution India at an advisory level and is an absolute asset to the growing team.

Suki Dusanj-Lenz, India

Suki Dusanj-Lenz is the Country Coordinator for Fashion Revolution India, building a dynamic operation nationwide and inter-state. She is an advocate for sustainability and gender equality, championing the need for a fair and transparent fashion industry. With a passion for innovation and technology Suki is also the CMO for a Swiss Tech company and on the advisory board for Seamrs and Dreams - a not for profit organisation in India that works to reuse and recycle clothes by distributing them to communities that need them most.

Efrain Paulino Martinez, Mexico

Efrain Paulino Martinez, is originally from the State of Mexico, but has lived in Oaxaca since 2011; finding unexpected personal and professional development opportunities. He holds a Masters degree in Social Economy, is a professor at the Universidad Iberoamericana (CUMX) and fervent admirer of traditional design and textile production techniques. He has been a consultant for national and foreign brands that have developed products in cooperation with designers, artisans and farmers in Oaxaca and Chiapas. Efrain likes to promote the responsible consumption of Mexican products and services made within a legal, ethical and sustainable framework.

Haushala Thapa, Nepal

Haushala is a social work graduate and founder director of a school run for the education of marginalized children in Nepal "Life Vision Academy" run and supported by Children and Youth First organisation. She is also Co-owner/ Creative director of Haushala Creatives, a made in Nepal brand that focuses on conscious consumerism and ethical making who host Global Swaps in partnership with Global Fashion Exchange. Haushala works as an educator, running sustainability projects/ classes for children below the age of 16 in Life Vision Academy and various schools in and around Kathmandu valley. As an educator she helps schools align their syllabus with environmental conservation with the philosophy that education is a core value in establishing awareness in young minds and that children have the right to know the future they will be living in.

Bini Bajracharya, Nepal

Bini Bajracharya has worked for over twelve years in design and development with various reputable companies in Nepal including SABAH Nepal, Sherpa Adventure Gear and Karuna Natural Wears, alongside other small ventures and consultancies. Bini's work has always focused on uplifting the lives of people she works with, giving back to communities and society and she remains enraptured to these values whilst involved professionally in the fashion industry. Bini feels "responsible to establish strong work ethics, and through my work and the platform of Fashion make an impact in the field." As a member of ABR Designer's Hub, Bini promotes ethical, natural and eco-friendly designers' wear whilst also providing a platform for new and aspiring designers who share the same values for ethical and sustainable fashion.

Ysabl Marie Dobles, Philippines

Ysabl is a freelance fashion designer/illustrator/researcher and has been in the industry for 7 years. Most of that time was spent simultaneously studying and working in Fashion and overlapping industries such as Film, Manufacturing, and NGO's as a Purchaser, Wardrobe Stylist, Researcher, Designer, and Volunteer. As a result of her experiences in these fields, Ysabl now constantly pursues the best of both worlds when it comes to artistic aspirations and sustainable goals. She is the founder and couturier at a start-up, slow fashion brand, pronounced 'a-la-yuh' and named after the Kapampangan concept of Alaya, Yulia values negative space and promotes circularity in fashion.

Cyril Naicker, South Africa

Cyril Naicker is a sought-after fashion consultant, mentor and influencer in the South African fashion space. He is often called upon to speak at events or write for prominent international fashion publications such as Glamour and Elle. A fashion Designer by qualification, he has spent the last twenty years working in almost every aspect of the fashion industry. He has built an exceptional reputation for his ethical stance on fashion and has become one of the trailblazers leading the sustainable fashion movement in South Africa. Cyril currently serves as the Chief Executive Officer at Imprint Luxury. He is a founding member of Fashion Revolution Cape Town and is currently the Country Coordinator for Fashion Revolution South Africa.

Kamonnart Ongwandee, Thailand

Kamonnart Ongwandee is a designer and consultant advocating for circular design at the intersection between fashion, textiles, and crafts practices. After winning the CIMB Asean Scholarship, which helps to promote craft culture in Southeast Asia, Kamonnart earned a Master's in Textiles at the Royal College of Art in London. Kamonnart is also an honouree for the Generation T Asia List 2019, member of Circular Design Lab Bangkok and Ellen MacArthur Foundation's Circular Economy Pioneers community in South East Asia. With work experiences in Bangkok, London and Paris, she is now also a speaker and visiting lecturer in Creative Textiles at Chulalongkorn University. Currently, she focuses on collaboration with artisan communities, with the belief that bio-circular design and local abundant biomaterials have the power to transform human experiences, self-awareness, and shared social values for planet Earth.

Passawee Patsy Tapasanan

Passawee T. Kodaka is the Founder and Creative Director at Folkcharm, a 'farm-to-fashion' brand that uses locally sourced handloom chemical-free homegrown cotton, aimed to empower rural artisans and to increase the appreciation in rural crafts(wisdom) and slow fashion. She is active in the social enterprise scene in Thailand, co-founding a movement of craft social entrepreneurs, VolksKraft Ethical Crafts Hub. Before founding Folkcharm, she worked in international and national-level social development organisations for over 6 years. With the Royal Thai Government, ARC-MDG and UNIFEM Scholarship, she holds an MSc. in Rural and Regional Development Planning and has received a scholarship and completed the Trainee Program for Asian Craft Works' in Textiles (Weaving and Dyeing) from Kanazawa College of Art, Japan. www.folkcharm.com

Irem Yanpar Cosdan, Turkey

Irem is a Textile Engineer with over 10 years' experience in sourcing, product development/management, buying, sales and e-commerce in both large/multinational textile companies and start-ups in Istanbul. She is passionate about having a positive impact on people and the environment through her experience and knowledge in the fashion industry, which has inspired her to create yesilyama.com, a website aiming to increase the level of knowledge about sustainability in the textile sector. She is a co-founding member of Sustainable Fashion Platform, which is an independent organisation aimed at creating a sustainable fashion and textile ecosystem in terms of environmental impact and social responsibility in Turkey. Irem holds a master's degree in Business Administration and continues her MSc in Innovative Technical Textiles. She supports textile companies and offers consulting services to drive sustainable businesses.

Sekayi Fundafunda-Lungu, Zambia

Sekayi has over 8 years of experience working in the Zambian fashion industry, as the co-founder of the award-winning blog and creative agency, MaFashio Co. Sekayi is currently Innovation Lead at Zambian technology, entrepreneurship, and innovation hub, Bongohwe, where she is responsible for developing, implementing and supporting innovative programs that deliver value to clients and their shareholders. Sekayi holds a BSc in Economics and Finance, is a 2019 Mandela Washington Fellow, and 1 of 6 storytellers selected to be a part of the 'Design Futures Project' in 2020, an initiative of the British Council and TWG, aimed at encouraging conversations about design and the circular economy.

Michelle Malunga, Zambia

Michelle is an HIV/AIDS Coordination Advisor who works with rural communities in Zambia, to bring about social change and improve quality of life. Michelle has a great passion for the media and has over 10 years of experience in broadcast media. She is a literacy development advocate and advocates for sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) among youths. She is the founder of the League of Exceptional Goat-getters with Influence and Talent (LEGIT) Foundation which aims at enhancing all aspects of creative talent among young people. Michelle is a fashion enthusiast and loves all things fashion.

Continued on the next page

Please note: Participant list is subject to change but was accurate at time of printing.

Meet Your Teammates